Course syllabus

Aims:

Students should be able to extend their knowledge of basic patterns of Greek grammar and syntax. In addition, they should be able to develop their appreciation of literary style and increase their understanding of the historical and cultural context of the passages they are studying.

Content:

Students must provide their own copies of the text

Advanced Greek Verse: Euripides Hippolytus (part 2: lines 732-end). Recommended edition M. Halleran, Euripides: Hippolytus (Aris and Phillips, 1995).

Advanced Greek Prose: Plato Republic book 8 554a4, Πῶς δ' οὖν - book 9 571a - 576b. Recommended edition: C. Emlyn-Jones and W. Preddy, Plato Republic Vol. II Books 6-10 (Loeb Classical Library, 2013).

Intermediate Greek: Selections from major Greek writers. Continuing with the Homer selection in JACT World of Heroes (2nd ed., CUP, 2015) starting at section 12 through to section 20, then sections 27-33.

Continuing Beginners (Level 1): Continuing on from the absolute beginners' course in September 2016, working through JACT Reading Greek (CUP, 2nd edition, 2007, two vols: Text and Vocabulary, and Grammar and Exercises, starting at chapter 2.

Presentation of the course:

Students work in small groups with their tutor. Absolute beginners are asked to familiarise themselves with the alphabet beforehand; for the other levels, students prepare the sections of the course book or the passages of Greek Literature to be read before they come. This gives plenty of opportunity for discussion and further exploration of the historical background or explanation of features of the language.

Outcomes:

As a result of the course, within the constraints of the time available, students should be able to:

- Recognise some new features of Greek language;
- Demonstrate increased knowledge of Greek vocabulary and idiomatic uses;
- Show greater confidence in translating from Greek into English;
- Distinguish the styles of different literary genres or authors;
- Display a greater knowledge of the background to the language and literature studied.
