Tutor biography

Course Director

Dr Janet Watson (tutor for the intermediate group) holds a PhD in Classics, and has a special interest in the Homeric epics. She has been teaching in higher and continuing education for more than twenty-five years. She currently teaches at Newcastle University in the school of History, Classics and Archaeology.

Janet has extensive experience in teaching classical Greek language and literature, and is a keen advocate of the Reading Greek methodology, whereby students are introduced to grammar and syntax through carefully graded reading passages adapted from original sources, progressing to original texts. This approach enables students not only to learn the language, but also to acquire an understanding of the culture in which it flourished.

Course Tutors

Elizabeth Warren (tutor for the advanced group) has taught Greek, Latin, Ancient History and Classical Civilisation since 1969 in a number of schools and for a four year spell at Bristol University. Her interests extend beyond the Classical period, including both archaeology, especially in the Bronze Age in Crete, where she has worked on excavations and publication of material and the frescoes and mosaics of Byzantine churches.

The study of Greek language and literature has remained at the centre of her teaching and she has been keen throughout her career to share her love of the subject with students of all ages.

Keith MacLennan (tutor for the continuing beginners group) was introduced to Roman Comedy by Theo Zinn at Westminster School, and he took this engagement into his teaching at Rugby School, where he stages nine of the surviving plays on different occasions. He has edited Aeneid, IV and VI for Bristol Classical Press and written Horace: A Poet for a New Age for CUP. He is also Chairman of the Management Committee of the JACT Greek Summer School.

Professor Robin Osborne (guest speaker) is Professor of Ancient History and Fellow of King's College, University of Cambridge. He will speak on 'Homeric Imagery'.

Presentation of the course:

Students work in small groups with their tutor. Students prepare the sections of the course book or the passages of Greek Literature to be read before they come. This gives plenty of opportunity for discussion and further exploration of the historical background or explanation of features of the language. In addition there is a lecture on Saturday evening on some aspect of ancient Greek culture.

As a result of the course, within the constraints of the time available, students should be able to:

- recognise more vocabulary;
- recognise some new features of Greek language
- recognise some new idiomatic uses;
- have confidence in their ability to translate from Greek into English;
- feel that they are developing a sense of the style of different literary genres or authors;
- feel that they have learned something more about the background to the language and literature they are studying.
