Course syllabus

---

Aims:

To engage students in the critical evaluation of both the novel by Lucio Mastronardi selected as course set text, and the written and video material relative to this author and the territory of Vigevano.

To present students and make them familiar with a selection of lexical aspects, idiomatic expressions as well as syntactical structures extrapolated from the course material or relevant to the topic.

To improve the students' knowledge of Italian and in particular their communicative written and oral skills in the language.

Content:

The Italian weekend will tend to be as varied as possible, aiming to achieve a balance between language and literature/ film, lectures and discussions, with emphasis on the latter whenever possible, trying to practise and improve all linguistic skills in the course of the different sessions.

The weekend is intended to be an exploration, through films, extracts of documentaries, analysis and comment of texts and literary passages, into some aspects of the narrative of Lucio Mastronardi and, in particular, it will focus on 'Il Maestro di Vigevano', which has been selected as set text and should therefore be read in Italian beforehand.

The course will be looking at the territory of Vigevano and at aspects of Lucio Mastronardi's life (1930 - 1979) and work in connection with their historical and cultural background.

Presentation of the course:

Students are asked to read the set text beforehand in Italian.

During the course of the weekend, which will be conducted almost entirely in Italian, course members will be expected to read, to understand spoken Italian, to listen to and to comprehend original audio-visual material, to take part in the discussions and to participate, individually or in small groups, in the language workshop part of the sessions, where they will be presented with oral and written exercises at different levels of difficulty.

As a result of the course, within the constraints of the time available, students should be able to:

Identify and evaluate the main themes in the work by Lucio Mastronardi taken into consideration and to be able to compare their rendering in relation to the video material presented during the weekend.

- Gain some knowledge of different aspect relating to the territory of Vigevano.
- Understand and master a selected range of lexical and idiomatic expressions.
- Express opinions and participate in discussions in Italian.
- Apply the knowledge acquired and the skills learned to complete similar tasks, feeling encouraged to pursue further study.
