Tutor biography

Course Director

Dr Janet Watson (tutor for the intermediate group) holds a PhD in Classics, and has a special interest in the Homeric epics. She has been teaching in higher and continuing education for more than twenty-five years. She currently teaches at Newcastle University in the school of History, Classics and Archaeology.
Janet has extensive experience in teaching classical Greek language and literature, and is a keen advocate of the Reading Greek methodology, whereby students are introduced to grammar and syntax through carefully graded reading passages adapted from original sources, progressing to original texts. This approach enables students not only to learn the language, but also to acquire an understanding of the culture in which it flourished.

Course Tutors

Keith Maclennan (tutor for the advanced group) taught classics at Rugby School until 2000. Publications include Aeneid I, IV, VI and VIII for the Bristol Classical Press/Bloomsbury and Horace A Poet for a New Age for CUP.
He has been closely involved with the JACT Greek Summer School and has been a regular tutor at Madingley since 2001.

Stephen Anderson (tutor for the beginners’ group) was educated at Trinity College, Dublin and St John’s College, Cambridge. From 1980 to 2015 he taught at Winchester College, where he was Head of Classics from 1984 to 2008 and subsequently Senior Tutor. In October 2015 he took up a new post as Lecturer in Classical Languages at New College, Oxford. He is co-author of a number... of classical textbooks, including Writing Greek (2010), a manual of Greek prose composition, and A Little Greek Reader (2015), a collection of reading passages chosen to illustrate a variety of Greek constructions.

Course syllabus

Aims:
Students should be able to extend their knowledge of basic patterns of Greek grammar and syntax. In addition, they should be able to develop their appreciation of literary style and increase their understanding of the historical and cultural context of the passages they are studying.

Content:

To fit the time available for the weekend’s reading, the following passages will be omitted: 275-478, 602-638, 719-729, 782-837, 942-971

Beginners’ group: This group is for complete beginners, and assumes no prior knowledge of Greek. You are asked to familiarise yourself with the Greek alphabet beforehand, and in the course of the weekend you will start reading passages of Greek based on original authors, through which you will be introduced not only to the workings of the language, but also to the world of Athens in the fifth century BC. The required text is: JACT Reading Greek (2nd edition, CUP, 2007 - two volumes: Text and Vocabulary and Grammar and Exercises).

Presentation of the course:
Students work in small groups with their tutor. Absolute beginners are asked to familiarise themselves with the alphabet beforehand; for the other levels, students prepare the sections of the course book or the passages of Greek Literature to be read before they come. This gives plenty of opportunity for discussion and further exploration of the historical background or explanation of features of the language.

As a result of the course, within the constraints of the time available, students should be able to:
1. Recognise some new features of Greek language;
2. Recognise more vocabulary;
3. Have learned to recognise some new idiomatic uses;
4. Feel more confident about their ability to translate from Greek into English;
5. Feel that they are developing a sense of the style of different literary genres or authors;
6. Feel that they have learned something more about the background to the language and literature they are studying.
Reading and resources list

Students must provide their own copies of the text
All materials listed above can be obtained from Blackwells (formerly Heffers) Bookshop in Cambridge (01223 568568) or The Hellenic Bookservice, 49-51 Fortress Road, London NW5 1AD (close to Tufnell Park on the Northern Line), tel: 020 7267 9499 email info@hellenicbookservice.com www.hellenicbookservice.com

In general, try Amazon and or Abebooks for cheaper alternatives/other editions.

Listed below are (a) texts that might be of interest for future reference for the beginners’ level, but do not need to be bought (or consulted) for the course; (b) reference works that might be of interest for more advanced levels, but do not need to be bought (or consulted) for the courses.
